REASON FOR ALLOWANCE

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reason for allowance:

The cited prior art taken alone or in combination fail to teach, in combination with the other claimed limitations, a method for transparently maintaining cache coherency when debugging a multiple processor system with common shared memory, the method comprising the steps of: creating a software memory map of the memory usage of a plurality of processors in the system to be debugged denoting in the software memory map whether or not each processor of the plurality of processors has a cache; detecting a write request to a shared memory location by the first debug session; broadcasting the write request to the first plurality of processors; and performing cache coherency updates in response to the write request in each of the first plurality of processors, as recited in the independent claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

4. The prior art made or record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
